A – Sustainable Management Plan

The growing significance of sustainability across global industries underscores the importance of propelling progress, and we are pleased to have made advancements in our sustainability approach and undertaken diverse new and ongoing initiatives.

In our pursuit of environmental preservation, we continue to collaborate with external energy experts, seeking innovative solutions to further optimise energy consumption and carbon emissions. We have also bolstered our responsible management of materials, water and waste, actions that are vital to protecting our planet's natural resources.

Recognising the pivotal role of a skilled and resilient workforce in ensuring operational sustainability, we have made commendable headway in our succession planning and training endeavours. Training and education of our Hearties will play a key role in future readying our workforce for the challenges.

Sofitel remains dedicated to enhancing our environmental sustainability performance, which represents a pivotal facet of our sustainability framework. We are consistently seeking industry-relevant solutions and practices that we may adopt to enhance our efforts.

Our proactive strides towards a greener tomorrow encompass diverse measures. Ranging from reducing energy usage and emissions, mitigating the potential impacts of climate change, improving our water consumption, and enhancing our waste management practices. We also seek to harness technology and environmentally friendly materials in our transitional journey to a low carbon future.

Together, let us continue to work towards a brighter and sustainable future for all.

A1 – Implement a Sustainable Management Plan

In our ongoing efforts to optimise energy consumption at Sofitel, we have appointed a third-party energy consultant to inspect our buildings, to provide guidance on energy saving actions we may undertake.

As part of this process, we have undertaken careful assessment of our energy consumption trends and in process of installing intelligent energy monitoring devices to closely gauge energy utilization, mostly on power intensive equipment such as the chillers, chilled water pumps, Air handling units, exhaust fans, domestic water pumps and kitchen equipment's at our hotel.

In addition to these energy-monitoring devices, we have also planning on implementing an energy savings monitoring system at selected areas identified as high consumed on electricity. The system enables us to benchmark a maximum limit on energy consumption in each area or outlets, with the management being notified when the limit is exceeded, facilitating quick investigation and the undertaking of remediating actions where applicable. Sofitel has similarly been fitted with a building control system that facilitates monitoring of energy consumption via the digital power meter.

Further to this, we have identified lighting as a key opportunity to optimise and minimise energy consumption. Where we have installed LED lights to accrue progressive monthly energy savings. We will continue to leverage on the expertise of the external energy consultant to identify new and innovative solutions to further optimise our overall energy consumption.

A2 – Legal Compliance

The Environmental Quality Act of 1974, which is the primary relevant legislation, is thoroughly examined in order to address its general administration, its regulation of pollutants, and the performance of environmental impact assessments. Since garbage, forests, and wildlife are important components of the ecosystem.

We at Sofitel Kuala Lumpur Damansara administratively implement the standard compliance on environmental policy and regulation referred to the governing rules as part of policy statements among the hearties by understanding the impact subsequent to the impact based on the daily operations.

We have planned to conduct training to educate and create awareness the rules of governing how human activity affects the environment is referred to as environmental law. In-order to achieve the goal towards negative impact to the environment, attention to the prosecution and enforcement of environmental legislation to be in-placed.

Key Features of Environmental Law in Malaysia:

- The state of international law and the issues surrounding climate change today.
- The environmental protections outlined in the constitution.
- The Environmental Quality Act of 1974 works.
- Environmental impact assessments to be carried out.
- Waste-related national and international regulations.
- Steps taken to save the woods and wildlife.
- Application of human rights to environmental conservation to be discussed.
- Citation of several national and international laws, agreements and guidelines.

A3 – Employee Training

Our aspiration is to become an employer of choice that prioritises staff growth and development. All team members are encouraged to take part in training, workshops and educational programmes aimed at honing their skills and keeping them updated with industry requisites and trends. This encompasses both technical and soft skill-oriented learning.

We identify and address employees' training needs during appraisal discussions. This paves the way for tailored training schemes grounded in individual requirements. During FY2023, we organised a town hall to share our future plans and growth strategies with employees, ensuring a united and cohesive effort is undertaken by all Sofitel's employees.

We have also continued to expand upon our succession plan, identifying the right personnel for key positions and conducting relevant trainings and assessments to further gauge and enhance the suitability of each candidate.
