TEAS

50

Merrill J. Fernando dedicated his life to tea when in the 1950s, he saw the concentration of ownership in the tea industry in the hands of a few large corporations. This was leading to the commoditisation of tea. He decided that in the interest of tea drinkers around the world, and the crop that his country produced with so much care and artistry, he would fight this process of commoditisation. Dilmah tea company was the first producer owned tea brand, and offered tea 'picked, perfected and packed' at origin. Unlike the multi-origin blends that monopolised supermarket shelves, Dilmah brought tea that is freshly packed at source and therefore rich in flavour and natural goodness making it one of the finest teas of the world.

Illy was founded by Francesco Illy (Illy Ferenc in Hungarian), born in Temesvár in the Austria-Hungary Empire, what is now Timișoara, Romania. Illy later moved to Trieste during World War I as an officer in the army. After the war, he remained in Trieste, which had recently come under Italian rule, and in 1933 set up a cocoa and coffee business, eventually concentrating on coffee. Focusing his interest on espresso, in 1935, Illy invented the first automatic coffee machine which substituted compressed air for steam, marketed as the illetta, the predecessor of contemporary espresso machines.

Probiotics are made of good live bacteria and/or yeasts that naturally live in your body. You constantly have both good and bad bacteria in your body. When you get an infection, there's more bad bacteria, knocking your system out of balance. Good bacteria help eliminate extra bad bacteria, returning the balance. Probiotic-supplements are a way to add good bacteria to your body.

FROM THE HARRY'S BOOK

The first print mention of the name "cocktail" appeared in 1798 in The Morning Post and Gazetteer; a long-folded London newspaper, while a name-check in a New York newspaper didn't appear until 1806. Wherever it originated, the work of two men – Connecticut-born Jerry Thomas and Gloucestershire lad Harry Craddock – in putting the classic cocktail on the map is indisputable. The former wrote the first book containing a selection of cocktail recipes in 1862, leading him to be hailed the godfather of American bartending.
