

Peter Kuruvita

Peter Kuruvita is an award-winning chef and restaurateur, TV presenter, author, culinary tour guide, and food and beverage consultant.

Peter is well-known for establishing and operating iconic restaurants Flying Fish Restaurant in Sydney in 2004, Flying Fish Fiji in 2008, and Noosa Beach House in 2013, the latter of which won Sunshine Coast Business of the Year in 2019. Peter also created iconic food precinct Alba Noosa in 2021, which became famous for its restaurant, events, and state-of-the-art cooking school.

In addition to this, Peter has published three cookbooks and presented five TV series for SBS which air on many networks worldwide.

Dilmah Tea

Tea Grower and Dilmah Founder, Merrill J. Fernando was the World's Most Experienced Teamaker. He founded Dilmah, named after his two sons Dilhan and Malik, as a family of tea growers championing quality, authenticity, and variety in tea.

Dedicated to benefit the farmer, Dilmah is committed to authenticity and to serving humanity with kindness to people and nature. Unlike other tea companies we grow our own tea, then pick the best leaves by hand and pack it garden fresh, in Sri Lanka.

Dilmah is known for being an Ethical Tea because 15% of our pre-tax profits are used to fund the numerous initiatives by the MJF Charitable Foundation and Dilmah Conservation established by Merrill J. Fernando himself to fulfil his philosophy of making "Business a Matter of Human Service".