Amanda Thompson has worked with top wineries to source for the right grapes, from the perfect climate, to craft sparkling wines that are organic, vegan and halal certified. The wines go through the grape harvest, pressing and fermentation processes exactly like traditional wines, finalized with a de-alcoholisation by vacuum distillation which promotes aroma retention and by that the sense of terroir of the wine.

Created in collaboration with Rodolphe Frerejean-Taittinger, CEO of Champagne Frerejean Freres, a maison based in Avize focused on Grand Cru et Premier Cru Champagnes and produced through classic methods finalized with a de-alcoholisation by vacuum distillation, the wine combines minerality and depth, and is a true expression of Sofitel's signature French Zest.

Known for being one of the finest wine producers in the country, Johannes Leitz made it his life's work to bring the heritage of Rüdesheim's vineyards to the rest of the world.

The family estate's history is rich, dating all the way back to 1744. The wines are cultivated, harvested and fermented in exactly the same conditions as regular wines with a final de-alcoholisation by vacuum distillation which promotes aroma retention, showcasing a light petrol character of the riesling and the red, cool fruits of the pinot noir.
