When you step into a Sofitel SPA with L'OCCITANE, you are entering a little corner of Provence.

Inspired by massage techniques from around the world, our treatments embody the spirit of sharing and the cosmopolitan nature deeply rooted in our territory.

Through Your Senses

Pounamu Greenstone is a unique form of jade found in the South Island of New Zealand that holds deep and profound cultural significance to the people of Aoteroa.

It goes far beyond just being a stunningly beautiful stone - to the indigenous Maori people of New Zealand, Pounamu has a profound connection to Papatuanuku (Earth Mother) and the koha (gift) she gives back to humankind. For this reason it is believed Pounamu is imbued with spiritual properties given its connection to the land, past and present and provides healing, strength and protection. It has been used for centuries for trade, gifting, ceremonial or culturally significant artifacts and for tools. It is strongly believed that for its mana (spirit) to be at its fullest, it must be gifted with love - as it was to humankind by Papatuanuku.

Our Greenstone Ritual has been uniquely curated specifically to use Pounamu's healing and harmonising properties using a soothing progression of long strokes with locally carved, warmed stones to melt away tension. An excellent option to those seeking a therapeutic or relaxing massage.

The overall atmosphere is warm and natural.
