

A woman with elaborate Day of the Dead (Día de los Muertos) makeup is the central figure. Her face is painted white, with dark, dramatic eye makeup and a black skull-like pattern around her eyes. Her lips are painted black and adorned with a row of small, clear, round gems. She wears a large, ornate floral headpiece on the left side of her head. Her hair is long and brown. She is wearing large, ornate gold earrings with crosses and a matching necklace. She is holding a large, ornate knife with a silver handle and a black blade. The background is a deep purple with a repeating pattern of stylized leaves and circular motifs. The text 'VIVA LA VIDA' is overlaid in a white, serif font across the middle of the image.
