TIME TO REMEMBER THE CLASSICS

A bartender's true magic is turning ordinary ingredients into extraordinary experiences.

Caipirinha 24

Brazil's national cocktail, is cherished for its refreshing simplicity. Originating in the early 20th century, it was first created as a remedy for the Spanish flu, over-time, the recipe was simplified to just cachaça, lime & sugar, evolving into the beloved Caipirinha we enjoy today.

Cosmopolitan 20

The "Cosmo," is a popular cocktail known for its stylish appeal & refreshing taste. It became famous in the 1990s, partly due to its frequent appearance in the TV show "Sex and the City." The drink is typically a mix of vodka, triple sec, cranberry & freshly squeezed lime.

Daiquiri 23

A timeless & beloved cocktail, has a rich history that dates back to the late 19th century. Legend has it that it was first created by an American mining engineer, Jennings Cox, in the Cuban town of Daiquirí who was seeking relief from the tropical heat.

Espresso Martini 22

A sophisticated cocktail born out of a blend of Italian & British influences. Created by the legendary bartender Dick Bradsell in the late 1980s in London, it was originally crafted for a supermodel who requested a drink that would "wake her up". Bradsell ingeniously combined these ingredients to create this indulgent & energising cocktail. The Espresso Martini quickly became a favourite among cocktail enthusiasts & coffee lovers alike, admired for its rich flavours & invigorating kick.

French 75 35

This classic cocktail is named after the French 75mm field gun used during World War I, by reflecting its powerful kick. The drink quickly gained popularity for its refreshing & celebratory nature. It's a delightful mix of gin, fresh lemon, simple syrup & Champagne.

Gin Fizz 22

A classic cocktail that has been enjoyed since the late 19th century. Known for its light, frothy texture & refreshing taste, the drink combines gin, fresh lemon, simple syrup & soda water. Served in a tall glass, making it a perfect choice for this effervescent drink.

Kir Royale 35

The timeless cocktail that adds a touch of elegance to any occasion. It's a variation of the classic Kir cocktail, which originated in Burgundy, France, in the mid-20th century. The story goes that the cocktail was created by Félix Kir, a priest & mayor of the town of Dijon, as a way to promote local products. Originally made with white wine and a splash of crème de cassis, the Kir Royale replaces the wine with Champagne or sparkling wine, adding an extra layer of elegance. With just two ingredients, it's a simple yet luxurious choice for celebrations.

Manhattan 25

A timeless cocktail with origins dating back to the late 19th century. Legend has it that it was first mixed at the Manhattan Club in New York City in the early 1870s for a banquet hosted by Winston Churchill's mother. Known for its sophisticated and robust flavour, the Manhattan is made with whiskey (typically rye or bourbon), sweet vermouth & bitters.

Margarita 22

A legendary cocktail that embodies the spirit of Mexico with its vibrant flavours & refreshing tang. Its origins are somewhat debated, with various claims to its invention. One story suggests that it was created in the late 1930s or early 1940s by Carlos "Danny" Herrera, a bartender at Rancho La Gloria near Tijuana, Mexico. He supposedly concocted the drink for a customer who was allergic to many spirits but not to tequila. The original Margarita recipe is simple yet elegant, consisting of tequila, fresh lime & triple sec (orange liqueur). Over the years, this classic cocktail has evolved, with countless variations & creative twists adding to its popularity worldwide.

Moscow Mule 21

With refreshing & zesty flavour, originating in the United States during the 1940s, it gained popularity for its unique combination of vodka, spicy ginger beer & tangy fresh lime.

Sazerac

27

The Sazerac cocktail is a timeless classic with roots deeply embedded in the vibrant history of New Orleans. It originated in the early 19th century, evolving from a medicinal tonic to one of the city's most iconic libations. Taking its name from the Sazerac de Forge et Fils brand of cognac, which was originally used as its main ingredient before being replaced by rye whiskey due to epidemic-related shortages. This cocktail is a sophisticated blend of cognac, absinthe, Peychaud's bitters & a sugar cube.

South Side

24

With roots in the Prohibition era, believed to have originated in the South Side neighbourhood of Chicago, where speakeasies flourished. This refreshing drink gained popularity among gangsters & socialites alike for its ability to mask the harsh taste of bootlegged gin. Today, it remains a classic cocktail cherished for its crisp minty flavour profile. The Southside is a delightful blend of gin, fresh lime, simple syrup & mint leaves.

Whisky Sour

25

A timeless cocktail with roots tracing back to the mid-19th century. First recorded in Jerry Thomas's 1862 book, "The Bartender's Guide," it has remained a popular choice for its balanced blend of sweet, sour & strong flavours. Traditionally made with whiskey, fresh lemon, & simple syrup.

BOURBON, RYE & TENNESSEE WHISKEY (30ml)

Difference between Bourbon & Tennessee whiskey lies in their production processes & geographic origin. Both are American whiskeys made primarily from corn (at least 51%), but Tennessee whiskey undergoes an additional step known as the Lincoln County Process. This process involves filtering the whiskey through charcoal before aging, which is believed to give Tennessee whiskey a smoother, mellower flavour. While all Tennessee whiskey is technically bourbon, not all bourbon is Tennessee whiskey.
